HERITAGE

Corium Italia originated from the heart of Florence, Italy, a country famed for their passion in design, beauty and fashion, yet deep-rooted with a rich blend of culture and heritage.

Founded by two dream pursuers – Rino and Edoardo. In their Italian blood, they always keep original passion for “pursuing the beauty” and regard sofa as exquisite leather boutique. Which is why they chose to launch Corium in Florence, a city known for its fine work of leather handcraft.

Drawing inspiration from this tradition, Corium Italia promises a suite of upmarket and modern Italian designer sofas for the esteemed customers.

The measure of life is not in its possessions;
what matters is a sense of accomplishment.

It resides in-between the vision and creation – in the time taken between expression and distinction. It reveals itself through a restless passion to pursue beauty and perfection, not to be noticed, but to be remembered.

Life is what we make of it.

Live with pride.

DESIGNERS

Corium the true tradition of Italy where the differentiation and uniqueness must prevail, the ability to combine tradition and originality, balancing craftsmanship and creative imagination and being in love with intricate details and pushing always forward the research for innovation.

Maria Claudia De Felice

Maria Claudia De Felice designs are rooted in the poetics between functional and aesthetic aspects, accompanied by the refinement of details and the experimentation of innovative solutions.

Federico Visani

Born in Florence in 1973, Federico Visani attended the State Art Institute, where he graduated in the improvement of the Course of Furniture and Design. He prefers a functionalist approach to the project, never make the result trivial, "a creative problem solver" (quoted by T. Maldonado)

Nicole Aptel

Graduated from a renown design school in Paris, French designer Nicole Aptel has created a natural integration between Italian poetry and French culture, and it shows in her work for Corium. It's all about passion in the process and result.

Federica Francini

She began her career as a product designer after high school with her attendance at the University of Architecture in Florence where she graduated in Design in 2011. Her research and development work in the field of interior products has always favored innovation with original products that it typically belong to the Italian style tradition.

Roberto Bendini

He is about remaining true to himself. He is about seeking inspiration from fashion, art and automotive. He is about the uncompromising elegance. He is Roberto Bendini, Corium's very own designer.

CS Toh

CS Toh's designs are subtle distinction braided with unpretentious practicality, communicating his gentle curiosity about life. No complicated construction or elaborate detailing for him – just an elevation of utilitarianism entertained with the right amount of ingenuity.
